Regents OK Highest NU Budget To Meet Growth

By LUCILLE HUTCHINSON
Star-Staff Writer

University of Nebraska Regents Tuesday approved an unprecedented $27,733,000 operating budget for the 1966-67 fiscal year, hopeful that the next Legislature will appropriate more than one-half million dollars to make up a deficit.

The budget is $2,078,000 over this year's budget.

The massive spending program is keyed to rapidly increasing student enrollments, more faculty pay as approved by the 1965 Legislature and increased research costs.

The record budget includes $924,320 boost in state general tax fund allocations to $17,678,112. The University will have to ask the Legislature for an additional $569,612 deficit appropriation, for a total $18,247,724.

Record Enrollment

The supplementary sum, University officials calculate, will be required to serve a record-shattering enrollment of 17,200 students next fall without a tuition increase or cutbacks in current programs or in the quality of instruction. Funds for adding the equivalent of more than 90 full-time teaching faculty members are included in the new budget, Chancellor Clifford Hardin pointed out.

The anticipated enrollment is 2,021 more students than at the University in the fall of 1965, a gain which Hardin said could be increased still further by such "present imponderables" as the ultimate effects of the new G.I. bill, Selective Service and the new federal aid program for financially-needy students.

Low Dropout Rate
In addition, NU spokesman said, the estimate is 1,500 higher than used when the University drafted its biennial budget plans in 1964, due to record low dropouts and increasing transfer-in admissions.

Benefits Increase

An increase of $209,760 for staff Social Security and retirement fund benefits was included in the budget, as well as nearly $60,000 more for student services and institutional costs.

Some $153,175 was added for fiscal 1966-67 to the agricultural extension services budget for a total $2,704,090 to better inform Nebraska farmers about modern agricultural techniques.

University libraries are slated to receive an additional $102,050 for a total $990,133. Salary increases are provided by the new budget on a merit basis, not across the board, Chancellor Hardin pointed out. The increases average out to match the Legislature's formula of five percent for the teaching staff, four per cent for administrative, managerial and professional staff, and two per cent for clerical and service personnel.

Journalism School Post To Copple

R. Neale Copple, 43, former Lincoln newsman and professor of journalism, was named director of the University of Nebraska school of journalism Tuesday by the Board of Regents.

Copple recommended for the position by Chancellor Clifford Hardin, will replace Dr. William Hall, who will become director of the Ohio State University journalism school July 1.

A native of Albuquerque, N.M., Copple is a 1947 graduate of the University and received his master's degree from Northwestern University in 1949.

He worked for the Lincoln Journal and Milwaukee Journal before joining the journalism school staff in 1959.

Chancellor Hardin pointed out that Copple has distinguished himself at the University in his conduct of depth reporting classes. Several of his students have won national honors in recent years, and Copple has written a book on the subject: "Depth Reporting: An Approach to Journalism."

He also authored "Tower on the Plains," a centennial history of Lincoln, and a television course on police reporting, and is co-author of a text for beginning and advanced reporting classes.

POPcorn HAS PIGEONS IN A FLAP

Antimissile System Start Called Urgent

Washington (UPI) — A confident forecast that this country can install an effective defense against enemy ballistic missiles was handed to the Senate Tuesday by its Armed Services Committee. The group proposed a start on financing for it.

"Even a modest ballistic missile defense might save millions of American lives in the event of an enemy attack," the committee said, as it asked approval of a $17 billion military authorization for the fiscal year which begins July 1.

Recent scientific breakthroughs in the nine-year development of the Army's missile killer, known as Nike X, caused the Senate panel to add $167.9 million of unasked funds to speed its actual deployment.

Chiefs Unanimous

With the unanimous backing of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the Senate committee decided to finance parts of the complex defense system in advance to speed up actual installation.

"Recent advances in technology and concepts of deployment permit a blanket of protection for the whole United States against a relatively small number of attacking missiles, and a tighter protection against heavier attacks for 25 major cities, at a five-year cost of $8.5 to $10 billion," the report said.

The Nike X system could defend against both ocean-spanning nuclear-headed missiles and those launched from nearby enemy submarines, the Senate was told.

The committee noted that an actual decision to press ahead and install the missile defenses must be made later. But it said purchase of long-lead time items now would advance that protection at least a full year.

Of Utmost Importance
As to the eventual decision on production and installation, the report called this "one of transcendent importance" that "involves consideration of an almost indescribably complex combination of factors, including financial, technical and strategic ones."

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara has delayed production and installation of the system in recent years because of its tremendous cost and numerous changes in research and development.

The committee aid it was approving the $167.9 million "as being reasonably priced insurance when one considers the consequences of being attacked without any protection."

"Because of its building-block or modular design concept," the report said, "the Nike X system lends itself to the initial deployment of a light defense for a small number of cities and a later addition of more extensive and intensive coverage as circumstances require."

Lincoln Officials Want More State Road Funds

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

A delegation of Lincoln city and Chamber of Commerce officials Tuesday proposed increases in street and highway construction revenue and urged an end to policies and practices denying state funds for construction and maintenance of state highway connections within cities over 5,000.

The proposals were laid before the Legislative Council's highways, roads and streets committee chaired by Sen. Jules Burbach of Crofton.

Mayor Dean Petersen said the state has "not lived up to its responsibilities" in meeting highway needs in urban areas.

To Sponsor Change

State Sen. Jerome Warner of Waverly told the committee that he will sponsor a resolution in the 1967 Legislature to bring an end to the ban on use of state funds for state highway connections within cities over 5,000.

Joe R. Seacrest, speaking for the Chamber, said state highway connections within urban areas are serving as a sponge which takes the local revenues needed to solve local arterial problems.

Urban Nebraska citizens have helped build state highways in rural areas for 50 years, Seacrest noted.

Reversed

Now, he said, "the problem is reversed" and the critical road and street construction needs have switched to the urban areas.

Seacrest said the Chamber does not favor reallocation of present highway user revenue, "but the answer is to get more money," a substantial portion of which should be employed to meet urban needs.

Additional funds could be derived, he suggested, from a one-half cent a gallon increase in the state gasoline tax, from a $3 or $4 boost in motor vehicle registration fees or by use of some revenue raised for other vehicles to provide additional revenue.

Too Rural

Seacrest said the Chamber agrees with Omaha witnesses who told the committee earlier this month that the State Department of Roads is "too rural-oriented."

Seacrest urged the department to be more aggressive in informing Nebrascans of unmet highway needs, and asked the committee, through its professional consultants, to derive a highway construction priority formula more attuned to needs.

Need More

Lincoln receives some $1,350,000 annually from the city wheel tax, motor vehicle registration fees and gas tax allocations, according to Public Works Director Robert Obering.

The state, he said, has suffered from a lack of highway leadership from the governor, the State Highway Commission and the department.

Don't Want Less

Lancaster County Board Chairman Ralph Harlan of Hickman told the committee that the county would "not like to have anything taken away from us" when it considers possible reallocation of highway user revenue.

County Engineer Hugh Dillon, in a written statement, suggested an increase in motor vehicle registration fees for passenger cars from $9 to $13 and proportionate hikes for These four-lane divided state highways could serve heavily-traveled areas, he said, such as Hastings to Grand Island and Lincoln southward to connect with a superhighway at the Kansas border.

State Fair Main Gate Admission Price Hiked

The main gate admission price for this year's state fair will be $1. Heretofore the price has been 50 cents.

However, the grandstand ticket scale has been reduced to 50 cents for general admission, and $1.00, $1.50 and $2 for reserved seats.

"Despite the fact that practically all other major fairs already have done so, the board was most reluctant to increase the main gate admission," Fair Board President Albert Carlberg of Fremont said Tuesday in announcing the price change.

"Nevertheless it was unavoidable if we are to keep the Nebraska fair among the nation's top expositions."

"Costs of maintaining the grounds and operating the fair are constantly rising. There is need for a number of capital improvements. In addition, our exhibitors, without whom we couldn't have a fair, are deserving of an increase in premium money."

"We are confident that our state fair patrons will fully understand these facts. We would like for them to know also that many types of exhibits for which a charge is made at other fairs are completely free at the Nebraska exposition."

"Considering the broad scope of the fair, we believe that a visit to it constitutes the biggest dollar's worth of education and entertainment you can buy anywhere. Insofar as the grandstand shows are concerned, particularly the Tennessee Ernie Ford show, this type of entertainment is available nowhere else at such a low scale."

Charge for admission of an adult remains at 50 cents. Youngsters under 12 are admitted free.

U.S. Warns China Anew . . . KOREAN WAR POLICY DEAD

Washington (UPI) — With the air war over North Viet Nam expanding dramatically, the United States affirmed Tuesday a policy of "no sanctuary" for any communist planes which fight in Viet Nam and seek safe haven in Red China.

The underscoring of policy amounted to a new warning to the Chinese Communists to consider the consequences of letting their territory become involved.

The North Vietnamese air war has been undergoing creeping escalation for about 10 days. It took a dramatic turn Tuesday when a U.S. F4C Phantom fighter shot down a MiG21 in the latest of a series of dogfights. (Story on Page 2.)

State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey was asked whether the Soviet-designed MiG had come into North Viet Nam from Chinese bases. He replied: "We have no information that would lead to such a conclusion."

Asked specifically about Red China, Rusk said the policy includes everybody "who affects" to get into this war." Dispatches from Saigon told of the destruction of the MiG-21 by a U.S. air-to-air Sidewinder missile in the latest episode in the aerial step-up which began about 10 days ago.

Watched Closely

Johnson administration policymakers are watching the situation closely. Some feel it is too early to know definitely whether the North Vietnamese air force has definitely joined battle or whether the combat incidents of the last few days represent a tactical exploration, a feeling out of U.S. reaction, with basic decisions on the future of North Viet Nam's defense strategy yet to be made.

In government quarters here the belief is that the MiGs came from North Vietnamese bases and were flown by North Vietnamese pilots.

At the same time there is sharp awareness that an expanding war in the air could quickly raise the risk of Red Chinese intervention on a hit-and-run strategy.

LBJ Ag Economies Scuttled By House

Washington (UPI) — The House Tuesday scuttled President Johnson's plans to cut the school milk program and make other farm economies.

It also voted to forbid sales of surplus crops under the Food-for-Peace program to any nation trading with Communist North Viet Nam.

The House then passed, 362 to 23, and sent to the Senate a $6.9 billion appropriation to finance price supports and other farm programs for the fiscal year starting July 1.

Johnson's economy plans finally came up with a winner when he got a roll call on his move to bar surplus food sales to nations whose ships or planes trade with Hanoi.

Although this was initially turned down on a non-record vote, it was approved 290 to 98 on the roll call and written into the bill.

Johnson's economy plans that fell by the wayside, besides his proposed $82 million reduction in milk subsidies for school children, included a $19 million reduction in school lunch funds, a $5.4 million reduction in farm research, a $7.8 million cut in insect control, a $145 million cut in rural electrification loans, and a planned $120 million reduction in next year's budget for soil conservation.

Millions Over

Divided Republican efforts to salvage two of Johnson's economy moves were defeated. Several other economies had been killed off in advance by the Appropriations Committee, and no effort was made to revive them.

A final attempt by freshman Rep. Theodore R. Kupferman, R-N.Y., to cut the Agriculture Department budget by 5% across the board was shouted down amid laughter and without an audible voice of support.

Rep. Frank T. Bow, R-Ohio, senior GOP member of the Appropriations Committee, leader of the Republican economy bloc and father of the 5% economy plan, himself led the opposition to Kupferman's move.

"I don't think it's economy to take anything away from the health and welfare of our schoolchildren," Bow said, in reference to Johnson's plans to

Are We Wise Or Foolish?

By WILLIAM O. DOBBLER

Returning from a trip to Philadelphia where he attempted to hire an assistant, City Planning Engineer Douglas Brogden reported to the City Council that he had difficulty in even getting anyone to talk about the job. The main reason prospects are hard to find, he said, is because the salary is too low. Note was made by other city officials that the salary scale problem exists at all levels of city employment.

At the University of Nebraska, we continue to lose good faculty members. There are many reasons for people leaving the university but salary is invariably a big factor with them. Recently, the Lincoln Community Hospital Council sought a federal grant for the hiring of a full-time professional staff. The federal government thought the cost of the local program was too small, that nothing could be accomplished with it. But local officials were able to convince the government that things could be done cheaper in Lincoln, that the man who might cost $12,000 to $15,000 somewhere else can be obtained for $9,000 here.

Council comment was generally critical of the government's trying to force more money upon us than we needed — an example, in the eyes of some, of federal extravagance. There are cases in private business and industry that show the same thing — a wage scale in Lincoln substantially below that of many other areas of the country.

Some would say that this is a tremendous asset for Lincoln but we doubt it. If our wage scales are so attractive, where is the new industry that wants to take advantage of them? If low wages are an asset, why does the State of Nebraska continue to grow at a rate far behind many other sections of the country?

We may be unique in the level of our economic activity but whether it is a sign of wisdom or foolishness is a debatable question. The young people of Nebraska are seeking their livelihood elsewhere because they are not willing to settle for the wages they can earn in Nebraska. It is highly questionable whether industry looks with favor or a frown upon an economic level that does not compare favorably with so many other parts of the country. Lincoln does grow and is an outstanding city in which to live but there is one question whether the city is coming even near its maximum potential. And while it grows in a total sense, it remains fairly static on an individual basis. While the number of employed moves slowly ahead, the level of individual employment does not change much.

The overall situation is lacking in maximum opportunity for the people of Lincoln and Nebraska and brings about the kind of problems experienced by Brogden. And Brogden as a part of government is not unique. The same thing happens in private business and industry but we just don't hear it in public. What is the cure? That, to put it mildly, is the $64 question. The problem is not one that will ever be solved by any segment of the economy alone. City government could not solve the problem regardless of what it paid, although it could substantially help its own situation. Private business and industry, too, are going to have to face the reality of the situation if a total cure is ever to be found. This, of course, can be only a voluntary action that comes in the light of more progressive thinking.

Finally, the situation will automatically be affected by growth. New industry, when we do get it, could well be an influence toward higher salaries. The difficulty of this process is that it is painfully slow and tends to be discouraged as a result of the conditions as they currently exist.

It is a mistake for Lincoln to think that it is making a gain when it hires for $6,000 a year a man or woman who would get $9,000 doing the same thing in some other city. In the first flush of enthusiasm, the employer in such a case comes out $3,000 better off but he pays for this a thousand times over.

He pays for it in terms of the thousands of other people in Lincoln who are similarly situated and the goods and services they do not buy as a result of their economic position.

Money Not Spent

In the above case, Lincoln merchants, professional men and others find $3,000 less being spent with them. Obviously, the situation is one that has some practical limits. It is not to be argued that if $9,000 is better than $6,000, then $12,000 is better than $9,000 and on and on and on. The end has to come somewhere and it does — at a level generally in harmony with the rest of the nation.

Where we lose out is in comparison with areas that are on a higher economic plane than we. You can't, so to speak, just go out and print your own money but you can endeavor to gain a fair share of the total money that is available. Margin of profit is important but so is the gross figure with which you have to work. All other things being equal, profit will be greater on a $1 million gross than on a $500,000 gross.

This Modern Age

In this fast moving era it seems we will never run out of projects.

We are conquering space. We have developed the bomb. We are experimenting in the hope of establishing a more peaceful world order. We have adopted a new form of economics which seems to be working us toward a world of plenty. We have atomic submarines. But it seems we are falling too far behind in the field of swift water travel.

Now we are going to work on it.

It has been realized that ships move slowly because they move through water which is much stickier than air and puts up too much resistance.

So the new answer to that is to elevate a boat about two feet above the water and then it will operate like a hedgehopping airplane. Speeds of greater than 70 miles an hour, with much less effort, is resulting from the new contrivances. The trick is to create an air cushion strong enough to hold the boat just above the water. Then airplane propellers drive it forward at a great rate.

The old troop landing boats of World War II are far too slow. Plowing through the waves at a few miles an hour they allow too much time for their own destruction. A boat full of troops racing toward the shore at 70 to 100 miles an hour is a hard target. And when it is considered that the air cushion device works as well on land as on water it will be possible to deliver men to the shoreline and then race on to some cozy defended place inland.

The Russians already have such a boat operating on a river. Great Britain is also moving forward in a practical way. A little more improvement and passengers will cross the Atlantic in 36 hours or less.

Mr. Anderson offered to produce these witnesses, no

Another Default Action

Once again, the absence of responsible action on the part of private enterprise is encouraging the federal government to enter a new field of activity. Under consideration now by the White House is a proposal to establish a government-owned and controlled railroad boxcar pool.

If it comes to pass, the railroads have no one to blame but themselves. For years, the nation has faced a critical shortage of boxcars for the movement of goods, particularly agricultural commodities and especially at harvest time. The pleas of the farmers for cars to move their grain to storage and through markets have consistently fallen on deaf ears.

While some roads such as the Burlington have gone extensively into the construction of boxcars, other roads have only profited. Rather than build their own cars, they have paid the small daily rental fees that are permitted on foreign cars and profited from doing so. They find it cheaper to pay this rental than to build their own cars.

Unfortunately, the federal government has also been lax. From the Interstate Commerce Commission on, there has been an unexplainable reluctance to crack down on roads abusing the boxcar rental procedure. Higher rental fees have consistently been denied and orders to transfer cars to areas of critical need have been ignored with impunity.

Also, Congress has shown no stomach for meeting the problem. Legislation could be adopted forcing all roads to have a minimum number of boxcars in relation to their business. It would be preferable if the federal government took some of these approaches as opposed to the pool idea but if the latter comes, we should know that it has been asked for.

PRIMARY ELECTION—1966:

2 Democratic Races Pit Men Against Women

By DON WALTON
Star Staff Writer

Two-candidate tussies for nomination for lieutenant governor and state treasurer highlight Democratic primary races for six state offices other than governor.

Both feature struggles pit a man against a woman, and one involves the only Democratic incumbent seeking reelection to his state office.

Sen. Ross Rasmussen of Hooper runs into Mrs. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff in the lieutenant governor contest, one which has centered on Rasmussen's record in the Legislature on two issues.

In the treasurer's race, Mrs. Ralph Brooks of McCook, widow of the former governor, is challenging one-term State Treasurer Fred Sorenson of Omaha—and one central issue has emerged in that scrap.

"Only other primary contest is a three-man battle for nomination to the Second District seat on the State Railway commission. One of the three is a reluctant candidate who attempted to withdraw from the race.

The three other Democratic primary races do not involve contests.

All offices are statewide with four-year terms, except the Railway Commission slot which will be filled from most of Douglas County for six years.

The contenders:

LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Mrs. Terry Carpenter, 56, wife of the state senator from Scottsbluff, has keyed her campaign to opposition to the state income tax law and support for a constitutional amendment to permit public school bus transportation for private and parochial school children.

Mrs. Carpenter is highly critical of her opponent's legislative vote in favor of enactment of the tax law and his lack of support for the amendment, which will be on the November general election ballot.

Ross H. Rasmussen, 49, serving his third term in the Legislature, is a Hooper turf grass farmer, best known for his chairmanship of the Legislature's Education Committee.

Rasmussen, a broadened tax base proponent, voted for the 1965 income tax law and declined to vote in favor of the school bus amendment "because it failed to clarify that transportation of non-public school children would be within the existing public school district."

His campaign has stressed needs in education, soil and water conservation, historical and industrial promotion of the state. Rasmussen is in the midst of a four-year term and could continue to serve in the Legislature if he failed to win nomination and election.

SECRETARY OF STATE George A. Meister, 39, Columbus Insurance and real estate salesman and businessman, is running unopposed. Meister was a candidate for the same office in 1962.

AUDITOR Arthur Case, 59, Lincoln hotel manager and accountant, is running unopposed.

TREASURER

Mrs. Ralph G. Brooks, 58, McCook, widow of Nebraska's former (1959-60) Democratic governor, has roundly attacked her opponent's $925,000 in idle state funds in non-interest-bearing bank accounts.

Mrs. Brooks, a former school teacher, has proposed legislation to permit idle state funds to be invested in Nebraska in interest-bearing securities and/or deposits—as well as federal securities.

Mrs. Brooks would place a limit on investment in federal securities, and urged legislation to earmark a portion of the funds earned in interest from investments to education and increased salaries at public institutions.

Fred Sorenson, 67, Omaha, elected state treasurer in 1964, notes that investment of state funds in interest-earning securities reached a record high during his term of office. Sorenson says some $43.5 million has been invested in short-term U.S. Government securities, and interest earned in 1965 totaled $1,299,655.

Sorenson intends his $925,000 in bank deposits (later reduced when some banks requested that the money be withdrawn) as a boost to the state's economy and a means to help "pay the freight" for limit on investment in federal securities, and urged legislation to earmark a portion of the funds earned in interest from investments to education and increased salaries at public institutions.

Prior to his election in 1964, Sorenson was a businessman and a Republican candidate for the State Railway Commission in 1956 and 1958, and Democratic nominee for a seat on the commission in 1960 and 1962.

ATTORNEY GENERAL

David J. Thomas, 41, Lincoln attorney and president of a tabulation center, is running unopposed. He was Democratic nominee for the office in 1962.

RAILWAY COMMISSIONER

Second District

Richard R. Larsen, 42, Omaha laborer, served as state treasurer from 1959 to 1961.

Larsen has been his party's nominee for state treasurer five times (1954, 1956, 1958, 1960, 1962), and sought the lieutenant governor nomination in 1964.

William J. Lindsay, 45, Omaha attorney, attempted to withdraw from the contest after learning that Nebraska statutes prohibit a commission member from practicing any other profession during his term of office. His request failed to meet the deadline for withdrawal.

Lindsay, who could decline the nomination if he wins it, says he is not certain what he will do if he is nominated.

James F. Munnely, 44, Omaha businessman and brother of Postmaster John Munnely, is a member of the Democratic state central committee and was a City Council nominee in 1965.

Emergency Help For India Urged

Nebraska Methodist Bishop Kenneth W. Copeland has joined with other Methodist bishops across the United States in issuing an appeal for India next Sunday.

Nationally, the goal is $1.5 million.

The seriousness of the situation in India cannot be exaggerated," Bishop Copeland said in a letter to all Nebraska Methodist Churches.

Wilcox Opposed To Hike In Fine

Sorghum Research Grant OK'd

BY REGENTS

The University of Nebraska Board of Regents Tuesday accepted a $533,000, five-year research grant from the Rockefeller Foundation.

The grant is to support a basic research program aimed at increasing the potential yields of sorghum grown in areas of both favorable and marginal climates.

The research is urgently needed, according to Dr. H. H. Kramer, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station, because sorghum is a major food crop in many of the hungry areas of the world.

In spite of this, he said, improvements in sorghum production have come about through observation, experience and trial and error, with little basic knowledge of the physiology of the plant.

The Nebraska program will involve both laboratory and field studies carried on cooperatively by all plant science departments of the University.

It will concentrate on five areas, Kramer said. These are:

—Sorghum management and production efficiency.

—The life processes affecting yield.

—Ability of sorghum and corn to tolerate extremes of weather and climate.

—The form and structure of sorghum.

—The relationship between sorghum development and the climate it creates within its stand.

NU Okays Pact

With Blue Cross

University of Nebraska Regents Tuesday approved a contract with the Nebraska Blue Cross Hospital Service Association, making University Hospital a participant in the Blue Cross program for the first time.

Subject to approval by the Blue Cross board, the contract provides that University Hospital can be reimbursed for the care given a patient enrolled in the Blue Cross program, according to the terms of the Blue Cross contract held by the patient.

Gothenburg Man Drowned In Canal At Hiles Canyon

Cozad — Robert Harm, a Gothenburg resident in his early 40s, drowned in the Tri-County canal at Hiles Canyon Tuesday when he fell from a bridge he and three other men were building.

Harm's body was swept about 200 feet downstream by the swift current. Water in the canal was about 16 feet deep in the middle. An attempt by a fellow worker to rescue Harm failed because of the swift current.

Harm was an employee of the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation District.

British Reassert Gibraltar Rights

London (P) — Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart told the House of Commons Britain "has no doubt as to our rights of sovereignty over Gibraltar."

He reaffirmed under questioning that the British intend to keep the fortress rock. Discussions with Spain over the rock's future open in London May 18.

On this green garden island, there are 29,600 people. The tourist traffic is 400,000 a year.

New inter-island jets jump from Honolulu to Lihue airport in 18 minutes. And they've quit serving the traditional cup of pineapple juice in the air. Not enough time.

There are 29,600 people on Kauai—the work here is in pineapple and sugar cane. Half the workable land is owned by seven families or corporations.

There are 13,000 Japanese; 7000 Hawaiians; 4000 Caucasians; and 630 Chinese who, judging from window signs, all run restaurants or grocery stores.

The Kauai islanders trace their ancestry back to the Tahiti canoe migrants who came here 2500 years ago.

The island, however, has been dropping off in population.

New machinery cut jobs in cane and pineapple. And the young people want to live in the lively Honolulu. (Eight of every 10 people in the islands live in Honolulu city and county.)

The island rises steeply in jagged gray-green mountains where rain falls forever and ever. Forty per cent of the island can't be planted or even walked on.

Because it is the oldest island, the volcanic mountains have broken down more. They formed a rich soil, and fruit and flowers burst from it without effort.

The plantation towns are sleepy, unpainted frame villages. A papa-mama general store. A dozen peeling-open-windowed houses on stilts.

The lowlands are a long sea of waving sugar cane, changing from green to gray as the wind sweeps the long leaves.

But tourists (also waving green) are changing the island. New stores. New muumuu shops. And the quiet plantation town may soon become a modern shopping center for the new way of life.

POSTCARD

A slice of red-gold papaya and a wedge of lemon. This sunny Hawaiian morning. The surf pours like sugar on the brown offshore reef.

The coffee comes from the Kona coast on the Big Island. Black as those innocent days when the New England missionaries arrived in 1820.

"The appearance of destitution, degradation and barbarism among the chattering and almost naked savages was appalling," wrote the Rev. Hiram Bingham.

"Some of our number, with gushing tears, turned away from the spectacle. Others with firmer nerve continued their gaze but were ready to exclaim: 'Can these be human beings? How dark and comfortless is their state of mind and heart!'

Cheer up. Things have improved.

Tourists—(how comfortable their state of mind and heart!)—will run about 650,000 this year. They will spend $200 million.

This is more than the income from sugar and pineapple. New hotels are rising on every island. Waikiki is going straight up into the blue Hawaiian sky.

A bunch of RCA conventioners are whooping it up at lush Coco Palms resort on this island of Kauai. The shops are just about out of muumuus.

"We can't make them fast enough when these big groups come in," said the shop lady.

The muumuu is a Mother Hubbard garment. Missionary ladies used it to sack up the appalling savages. Particularly the girl savages who were a sight to behold.

Now it is the booster fuel in the island economy.

Papaya is about the size of a soft ball. The outer skin is greenish-yellow. Cut open, it's the color of cantaloupe. It's a sweet melon. Tastes better if you sprinkle it with lemon.

Curiously, the papaya trees are divided by sexes. Boy trees and girl trees.

More curiously, every few years, they change sides. Boy trees become girl trees. Girl trees become boy trees.

Science does not know why. Only knows they'd rather switch at night.

Talks Should Include Viet Cong--Krag

By EUGENIE HUTCHINSON
Star Staff Writer
Prime Minister Jens Otto Krag of Denmark said here Tuesday he thought the Viet Cong should be included in negotiations to end the Viet Nam war, declaring the sooner a negotiated peace can be reached, the better.

"If you're going to negotiate, you have to negotiate with the party you're fighting," he told a news conference.

"The negotiations have to be carried out on the basis of the Geneva Agreement of 1954," Krag added.

The Danish prime minister said that he "knows President Johnson will succeed in a negotiated peace."

He pointed out that the Danish government would not support the Vietnamese war with weapons, but his nation was "ready to give humanitarian aid."

"This is the way we try to alleviate conflict," Krag advised.

The prime minister indicated he would ask President Johnson Wednesday "when the Viet Nam conflict can be solved" and tell him about the concern of Danes and Scandinavians.

Common Market

In addition to discussing some Danish-American bilateral questions, Krag also said he would talk with the President about the European Common Market to which Denmark is seeking entrance and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Krag was the first NATO leader to discuss France's NATO policies with De Gaulle after the crisis over the French withdrawal from the Western defense force.

He told the news conference that De Gaulle appeared to be "very firm on his decision." But, he declared, "we should not give up one inch our determination to have an integrated defense system."

"Western Europe is not strong enough to defend itself without the United States," he added.

Indicating that Americans seem to be impatient with the slow progress of European unity, Krag admitted that "we are at a standstill just now" since the Brussels negotiations on the entry of the United Kingdom into the Common Market broke down in January 1963.

"But the important fact is that the European idea is still there," he stressed.

"I believe that we shall some day see a united Europe ready to take its proper place in a close cooperation with the United States," he asserted.

"We think that Atlantic partnership is indispensable if we shall succeed in building a better world to the benefit of mankind."

Krag, who came to the University at the invitation of former governor and Regents president Val Peterson, was accompanied by his wife, a Danish film actress, and U.S. Danish Ambassador and Mrs. Torben Ronne

These years."

He said he thought that the move toward European integration is one of the greatest European debts toward the United States."

"Only by European unity can the countries . . . become

NEWS

NEBRASKA A grow-grow seems to be Lincoln's most popular discotheque this spring. Located on the yards of the city, the A-grow-grow discotheque is sporting a new grass-green watusi-ing-with-your-fertilizer-cart floor, ringside patios, decor by Nature and Co., and some of Lincoln's most prominent green-thumb citizens. The A-grow-grow is open from dawn to sunset — and for the sophisticated sprinkling set there is lawn watering after dark.

But the news this morning is not of any jet-set garden care. It is of travelers — to Omaha, Denver and Hebron — and from Rapid City, Albuquerque and Sacramento.

EASTRIDGE

Mrs. LaVell K. Swarts managed to spend three days in Denver, Colo. last weekend visiting at the home of her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin L. Orcutt. While in the city, Mrs. Swarts also visited with her mother, Mrs. Emma Orcutt. Although the journey was interesting and fun, Mrs. Swarts had no farewell regrets for she returns to the mile high city on the first of May as the Nebraska delegate to the National Convention of the League of Women Voters.

A very welcome visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Siegel Saturday was their son, Jerry, of Sacramento, Calif. Jerry, was en route from Washington, D.C.

FIENE HEIGHTS

Making a speedy trip to Omaha via the Interstate on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Fenning. Why all of the haste? Well, it seems that Mr. and Mrs. Fenning and their two children, Kate and Tom, decided they were in the picnic mood. So they called up some Omaha relatives and suggested a joining-together-of-forces to enjoy Sunday dinner in a favorite Omaha park. Everyone agreed the idea was great — so the lunch was packed and the Fennings met Mr. Fenning's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Langdon and their daughters, Cindy and Ranee, and son, Terry, at a park where dinner was served.

New members of the board of directors of the Jay-Husker Girl Scout Council, elected at the annual meeting Tuesday evening, are Mrs. Howard Meyer, Nebraska City, and Harold Mosher, elected to the board, and Mrs. Frederick Arndt was appointed membership-nominating chairman.

Following an address by Robert Reilly, director of special resources at Creighton University, Omaha, service awards were presented by Mrs. Fred Akin.

Mrs. Donald W. Edwards of Lincoln, was installed as president of the Nebraska Dental Auxiliary Tuesday afternoon at the annual spring convention being held in Omaha in conjunction with the state Dental Society convention.

Also elected to office following the luncheon and fashion show at the Omaha Country Club were Mrs. F. J. Brown of Genoa, president-elect; Mrs. Charles Baker, David City, recording secretary; Mrs. C. F. Singer, Jr., Omaha, treasurer; Mrs. Earl Lampshire, Lincoln, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Paul Deines, Lincoln, historian; and Mrs. K. E. Holland, Lincoln, state dental health chairman.

ABBY doctor-lawyer deal

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for nearly 25 years, have six children and have lived a "lie" all my married life. I detest sex! I am sure if I had had sex relations before matrimony, I never would have married. My husband is a very fine person—considerate and not demanding—I do love him, but submitting to sex has always been degrading and disgusting to me. I am sure my husband has no idea how I feel. Don't suggest psychiatry. I don't want to change. I am convinced that there must be other women like me, who were born with a nature that is repulsed by this kind of intimacy. Am I right?

"LIVING A LIE"
DEAR LIVING: Yes, there are other women like you, but they were not "born" with their attitudes about sex. They were developed during their childhood. Many women (and men) carry into marriage faulty ideas about sex that make it degrading and disgusting. Unfortunately you are such a victim.

The physical side of marriage can be immensely rewarding and beautiful. Psychotherapy might help you—but only if you wanted to be helped.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 28-year-old, college-educated, who takes a Pingpong ball to bed with him every night and keeps bouncing it off the wall and catching it until he gets tired enough to fall asleep? That's my husband. He claims it "relieves tension." We have been married for two years, and he started this foolishness about six months ago. I have even considered leaving this nut!

PINGPONG PROBLEM
DEAR PING: Your husband is inconsiderate to "relieve" his tension in a manner that adds to yours. Suggest that he tell his troubles to a doctor before you tell yours to a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: Re unwanted visitors in a hospital: When a patient has an unwanted visitor, if the patient will just close his eyes and pretend he has dropped off to sleep, the visitor will quietly leave. I am a Gray Lady and I often tell this to patients who complain that company wears them out.

GRAY LADY, MEDINA, N.Y.

DEAR GRAY LADY: Take it from an old Gray Lady (either way); I can tell you never to underestimate the persistence of some visitors. Some have been known to sit for hours waiting for the patient to "wake up."

The bidding:
South West North East
Pass Pass 1+ Pass
1+ Pass 4+ Pass

Opening lead—four of spades.

This hand was played in the Intercollegiate Par Tournament in 1963. North-South were expected to arrive at four hearts and East-West were expected to defeat the contract. The directed opening lead was the four of spades by West.

Declarer wins the spade in dummy, plays a heart to the king followed by a heart to the ace. West showing out and discarding the deuce of spades. For whatever it is worth, this discard tells East that West started with precisely five spades, and, incidentally, that declarer started with two.

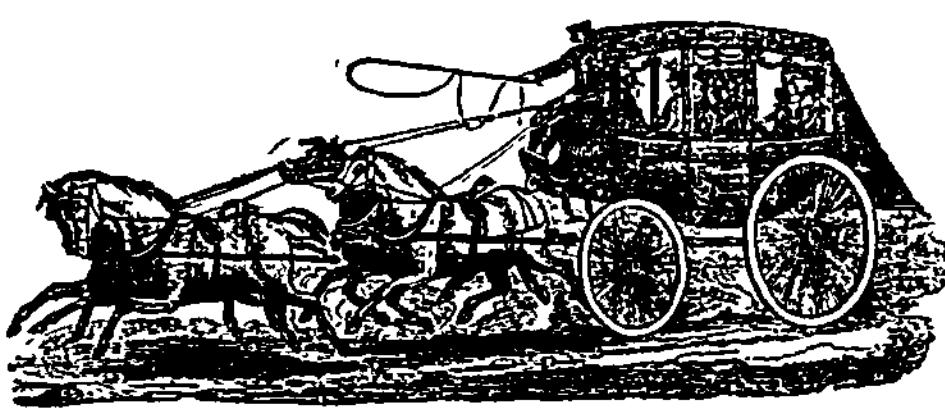

Declarer now leads three rounds of clubs, discarding a diamond when East ruffs the third club with the queen.

East must now be sure to return a low diamond, not the king—for if he leads the king, the suit gets blocked and South makes the contract.

Actually, East has all the information he needs to justify a low diamond return. He knows that South started with precisely two spades, five hearts, two clubs and, therefore, four diamonds.

East's only hope of defeating the contract lies in his partner's having the ace of diamonds and in cashing three diamond tricks in a hurry.

Complexion Beautifier

The complexion takes on a peach-and-cream look through the use of a tropical moist oil with remarkable beautifying properties. It is isotonic in action, assisting the plasma colloids (the skin's water carriers) to retain a balanced moisture level at the skin's surface, so that the complexion acquires a glorious bloom. Smoothed over the face and neck before make-up is applied, this moist oil of Olay helps the skin to enjoy clear loveliness. Ask your druggist for a supply for your personal needs.

is a crossword puzzle with some extra features. Complete it in one day, and you'll have a new message every day. If the number of letters in your name is less than 6, add three. If the number is over six, subtract 4. If the number is even, count off the even numbers and check every other row. If the number

Whoops, Wrong Place

When Iowan Steve Spray was disqualified from the Dallas Open for failing to sign his scorecard, he joined such as Doug Sanders in a not too exclusive category.

But the fate of Spray and Sanders is little worse than what once happened to Jerry Barber, who once put down his back nine total of 38 in the square for the 18th hole and the official scorer gave him a total of 117 for the round.

A sign on the front of the student union building at the University of Kansas last weekend during the Kansas Relays, a time when numerous prep prospects are brought in by KU coaches, read:

"Welcome to KU Relays Headquarters. Clearance 7 feet by 20 feet. If you have to duck, hurdle or sideswipe this banner, see a KU coach!"

Big Eight coaches, athletes, officials and especially sports writers should be advised to shy away from any $1 Nassau challenges for golf from Colorado's defensive satis-

The safeties are Hale Irwin, who has won the Colorado State Amateur title the last three years, and Bob Anderson, who has succeeded Irwin as junior champion in Colorado.

Anderson set a course record of 69 in the first round of the Boulder Country Club championships last summer. Irwin lowered it to 68 in the second round, then shot a 62 on the final day. Irwin is a member of the Buffs' goal squad this spring, but Anderson is devoting his attention strictly to football.

Quarry In K.C. Fight

Lincoln area fight fans may get their best chance to see a possible future heavyweight champion in action in Kansas City Monday night.

Jerry Quarry, the Los Angeles heavyweight who is unbeaten in 18 pro fights after winning the National Golden Gloves title in Kansas City in 1965, will return to the Missouri city to meet Al Jones of Memphis, Tenn., in a 10-round main event.

Quarry was recently featured in Sports Illustrated as one of a group of promising young heavyweights who could bring the boxing picture back into a favorable light.

Some Not Ready

Kansas State track coach Deloss Dodds will take only a partial squad with him to the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday, sending the remainder of the Wildcats to the Colorado Relays.

"The field at Drake is so tough some of our boys don't have any business being there," he explains. "Come to think of it, some of them don't have any business at Col-oado either."

If Jim Ryun can win the special mile run at the Drake Relays this weekend, he will be only the second miler to sweep the event at Texas, Kansas and Drake and the first to succeed while still in college. Wes Santee won all three in 1955, the year after he finished his collegiate eligibility.

—PEPITONE LEADS RALLY—

Yankees Take 7-6 Win; Streak Ends At 7 Games

New York (AP) — Joe Pepitone's run-scoring single clinched a three-run counter-rally by New York in the bottom of the ninth inning Tuesday as the Yankees pulled out of a seven-game losing slump with a 7-6 victory over Boston.

The Red Sox scored four times in the top of the ninth but the Yanks came right back.

Lou Clinton started the Yank rally with a leadoff walk against Dan Osinski and Bobby Richardson singled. After a sacrifice, Roger Maris knocked in a run with an in-field hit, another scored when Roger Repoz hit into a force play, and Tom Tresh sent Repoz to third with a single.

Pepitone then clipped Ken Sanders for the decisive single.

The victory was only the second for the Yankees in 12 games.

The Red Sox got their four in the top of the ninth off Whitey Ford and three relievers. Lenine Green chased in one with a pinch single. Tony Conigliaro put two more across with a bloop hit to right, and the fourth scored on a wild pitch by rookie Dooly Womack, the winning pitcher.

Boston got to Ford for a run in the first on a double by Conigliaro following a walk to rookie Joe Foy.

Senators' relievers held the Sox to two hits after the second inning.

Fisher relieved Horlen with the bases filled and one out in the ninth. The knuckleballer got pinch-hitter John Orsino on strikes and Don Lock, another pinch-hitter, on a fly to center.

In the streak, Los Angeles scored six straight points — one basket by Rudy LaRusso and two in a row by the unerring West and took a commanding 107-96 lead with only 6:24 remaining.

In the final minutes, Los Angeles played just to match points with Boston and won easily.

Balanced scoring contributed heavily to the Lakers' victory. Four players hit 20 points or more, led by West with 32. Rookie Gail Goodrich played the finest game of his professional career, scoring 28. Baylor added 25 and LaRusso 20.

All five Boston starters hit double figures, but the Celtic offense was slowed when starter Tom Sanders picked up his fifth foul with more than 10 minutes remaining in the third period and then had to play cautiously.

John Havlicek paced the Celtics with 27, while Sanders and Sam Jones each had 23.

Bill Russell dominated the backboards, as usual, and also scored 22 points. K. C. Jones totaled 13.

The final game will be played in Boston Thursday night.

Money Is Main Factor In Choosing Opponent

... GRIFFITH HOLDS TWO BOXING TITLES

New York (P) — Emile Griffith's co-manager said Tuesday the newly crowned middleweight champion will make his first defense against either Joey Archer of New York, Italy's Nino Benvenuti or ex-champion Dick Tiger.

"We'll fight the one who can get us the most money, and it will be in United States," said Gil Clancy, co-manager and trainer of the 23-year-old Virgin Island native who dethroned Tiger in a close 15-round at Madison Square Garden Monday night.

"Sure, I'd be glad to fight Tiger again," said Griffith, sitting next to the man he beat at a news conference at the Garden.

"He was a good sport to give me my chance and I'd be glad to fight him again. But it's up to my managers. They make the fights, and I fight."

He turned to face the deadpanned Tiger and said: "Give me a smile, Dick."

Tiger smiled weakly and said: "You're a lucky boy."

Asked why he wanted to keep the welterweight 147 pounds championship now that he had won the middleweight 160 pounds crown, Griffith slammed the top of a desk and shouted:

"I got banged around a long time before I won it. I worked and waited for five years for it. I can hold both titles and defend them both until some one beats me. I think it's a silly question."

Clancy and Howard Albert, the other co-manager, said their attorney will serve papers on the New York State Athletic Commission Wednesday and file a suit in State Supreme Court to test the right of the commission to force Griffith to vacate the welterweight title.

The commission maintains that under its rules the welterweight title was automatically vacated when Griffith won the middleweight crown. The commission said it expects to make plans soon for a welterweight tournament.

Clancy admitted that Griffith had assumed an obligation to fight for British promoter Jack Solomons since Solomons had released Tiger from a commitment to fight Benvenuti.

"We thought Griffith would defend both titles against Brian Curvis in London for Solomons," said Clancy, "but that went out the window when Curvis got stopped by that Frenchman Jean Josselin in Paris Monday night.

"We're willing to fight Benvenuti or Archer or Tiger—but the fight would have to be held in the United States and probably right here in New York—wherever the money is."

In Rome, Italian promoter Rino Tommasi said both Griffith and Tiger had signed contracts that the winner of their fight would take on Benvenuti, the undefeated world junior middleweight champion, in Rome within three months.

"But officials of Madison Square Garden have made proposals that the match be held in New York because the gate would be bigger than in Rome," said Tommasi.

"We'll talk to Solomons and see if we can come to some sort of an agreement to hold the fight here," said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing.

The fight attracted a crowd of 14,934 which paid $147,536.

Coast-to-coast television added at least $50,000 to the pot.

Tiger, who was guaranteed a minimum of $75,000, probably will collect about $30,000 on his 40 per cent. Griffith will earn about $40,000 on his 20 per cent.

Tiger held firmly to his stand that "I deserved the decision. I made the fight. I won after him."

"That was Tiger, not me, who was on the floor in the ninth round," said Griffith.

"I don't think there was any doubt that I won the fight. He's a good fighter, but I was the better man this time."

Griffith dropped Tiger with a short right to the jaw in the ninth round and that proved to be the vital difference in the scoring of two of the officials.

It was the first time Tiger ever was floored in his 14 year career.

"He staggered me," Tiger admitted.

Texas A&M Gets Football Probation

San Francisco (P) — Texas A&M was slapped with a football probation Tuesday by the National Collegiate Athletic Association in support of prior Southwest Conference action.

The universities of Richmond and Chattanooga were also cited for rule infractions.

Richmond was censured while Chattanooga went on a one-year probation but without sanctions.

Under terms of its probation, Texas A&M will not be able to play in any post-season football game following the 1966 season.

The Southwest Conference put the Aggies on indefinite probation last Dec. 12 for violations of financial assistance and out-of-season practice rules. Conference sanctions prohibit the school from post-season football competition until next Jan. 15.

In December, the conference reviewed the A&M athletic program and if probation is rescinded, the NCAA will take action in January.

Alou Leads Braves' Win Over Giants

San Francisco (P) — Felipe Alou lashed five hits, including two homers and two doubles, as the Atlanta Braves buried the San Francisco Giants 11-3 Tuesday night.

Alou, who has hit in all of the Braves' 14 games, boosted his average to .393 with his five-for-five performance.

He smashed the first pitch of the game from Bob Bolin into the left field stands, he triggered the three-run third with a leadoff double, homered again at the start of the fourth, singled in the five-run sixth and doubled in the seventh.

Willie Mays once again was thwarted in his attempt to become the National League's all-time home run hitter.

TIES AL RECORD

Cleveland (AP) — The undefeated Cleveland Indians, led by Luis Tiant's three-hit pitching, beat the Kansas City Athletics, 4-0, Tuesday night for their ninth victory, tying an American League record for the most consecutive victories at the start of the season.

The record was set by the St. Louis Browns in 1944. The major league record is 10, shared by the 1955 Brooklyn Dodgers and the 1962 Pittsburgh Pirates.

Home runs by Larry Brown and Duke Sims helped Tiant to his second victory in two starts. The 25-year-old right-hander struck out 12 in registering his second shutout.

Brown put the Indians ahead with a bases-empty homer in the second inning.

Sims' home run following a walk to Brown was the big blow of a three-run rally in the fifth.

The Indians got their third run in the fifth when Vic Davalillo beat out a grounder to short, went to third when catcher Ken Suarez threw wildly in a pickup attempt and scored on a wild pitch by Chuck Dobson.

Tiant pitched himself out of a one-out, bases-loaded jam

4 Baltimore Homers Tip California

Baltimore (AP) — The streaking Baltimore Orioles smacked four homers, one by Brooks Robinson, and defeated the California Angels, 7-3, Tuesday night for their seventh straight victory.

The Angels also hit two homers in spacious Memorial Stadium as all the runs were scored on roundtrippers.

Jose Cardenal opened the game with a solo homer off Oriole starter Jim Palmer, who was relieved by Dick Hall in the sixth after a two-run blast by Bobby Knoop narrowed the Baltimore lead to 4-3.

Baltimore went ahead 2-1 in the second on a two-run homer by Dave Johnson off loser Jim McGlothlin, and Robinson made it 4-1 with his third-inning homer.

After California crept to within one run, rookie Andy Etchebarren and Curt Blefary hit bases-empty homers in the Baltimore seventh.

Brooks Robinson, who also had a single, has hit safely in all 10 Oriole games and has a .415 average. He also has driven in at least one run in every game and has a total of 18.

Frank Robinson, who singled before Brooks' homer, had two hits in all, raising his average to .471.

Air Authority Okays Budget

By BOB SCHREPF
Star Staff Writer

The Lincoln Airport Authority Tuesday approved a fiscal 1966-67 budget of $518,832, but members emphasized that the figure might not be realistic in light of the possible acquisition of part or all of Lincoln Air Force Base facilities during this fiscal year.

"This budget is based on the continuing operation of Lincoln Municipal Airport as presently constituted," said budget committee member Robert Phillips. "The revenues and expenditures resulting from this (LAFB) acquisition cannot be estimated."

Phillips told the authority a supplementary budget will be furnished "when it is determined what the authority will get from the federal government".

Balanced

The authority budget for fiscal 1966-67 was balanced at $480,725.

Although noting an increase in expenditures for the coming year, Phillips said he anticipates additional revenues from new contracts to be negotiated at year's end with commercial air carriers.

Airline revenues in the new budget are based on current contracts which expire Dec. 31, 1966.

Highlights

Other budget highlights: —an increase of $4,000 in salaries for authority employees. The authority works under the same type of merit plan as the city.

—$239,000 in estimated revenues from the state-authorized one mill tax levy.

—$126,187 contingency fund listed under budgeted expenditures.

The authority took under advisement a report by Lincoln real estate appraiser R. C. Walters on the rental value of 27 separate facilities at LAFB which the authority might acquire from the government.

The buildings have potential use for manufacturing.

Nebraska Income Tax Issue Argued By Burkhardt, Lynch At LEA Meet

By DICK BUDIG
Star Staff Writer

Points for and against a proposed state income tax were presented at a special meeting Tuesday of the Lincoln Education Association.

John Lynch, executive secretary of the Nebraska State Education Association, spoke in favor of the amendment, and Dr. Allen Burkhardt, executive vice president of the Association of Nebraska Taxpayers spoke against the proposed measure.

Dr. Burkhardt said one of his objections to a state income tax is that it affects just as equally the man who makes $3,000 annually as the man who makes $50,000 yearly.

He termed this was "a regressive tax that hits the little man the hardest."

Additional Taxes

"The history of other states proves conclusively that new taxes are not replacement taxes. They are additional taxes," he said, citing Iowa, Colorado and California.

We have to decide what we need in the way of facilities and services, and then decide what taxes we need, he said.

"Nebraska has done pretty well in meeting its needs," Dr. Burkhardt said, "but sometimes we don't distinguish between needs and wants."

Dr. Burkhardt claimed that the tax base has already been broadened by virtue of the increasing assessed valuation of property.

Depression Mill Levy
He cited mill levies between depression years and today. During the depression, one mill raised $7,000. Today, on the same tract of land, one mill raises $27,000, he said.

Also, he cited an increase of 400% in state and local spending between 1925 and 1964. State expenditures in that period have gone up 2,000%, he said.

Lynch, on the other hand, said that the case for a broadened tax base has more support now than it ever has.

"If and when the tax base is broadened, the most of it must go to the support of our schools," Lynch said.

School Support

Revenue earmarked for school support ranges in various states from 10% to 70%, Lynch said, adding that the proposed neither the high or the low split.

But he added, "A 60-40 split would be desirable."

Lynch noted that education is no longer a matter of local concern. He said that there was a time when it was, but increasing affluence, easier means of travel and broadened mental horizons have made education a matter of state and national concern.

If this is true, he said, then financing must come from all these sources.

Lynch noted that all we have now is state control, which has been granted to cities by the Legislature. But the legislature can take back this management at will, he added.

Lynch added that he does not see the added state revenue from property tax as broadening of the tax base. "It's pyramiding," he said.

Roads Scheduled In Wagon Train Recreation Area

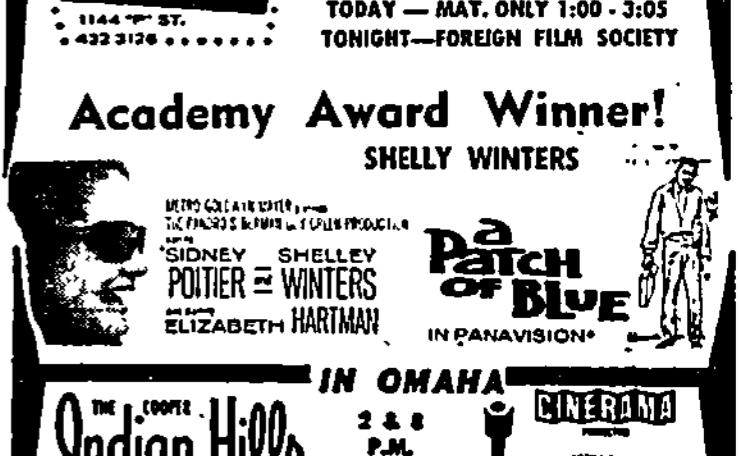

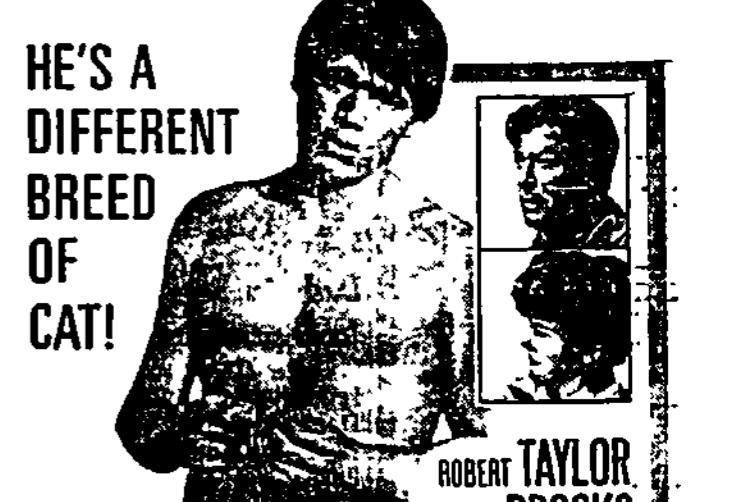

Wagon Train state recreation area, two miles east of Hickman, will soon have paved roads, Game Commission Director M. O. Steen reported Tuesday.

The developed day-use and camping areas will be closed for approximately 30 days and access to the dam also will be shut off while blacktop is installed.

Fishing access sites, one mile north of the dam on east and west sides of the lake will remain open.

Blue Chips Sink In Sluggish Mart

New York (UPI) — Weakness in several outstanding blue chips dragged stock market averages downward Tuesday as the pace of trading continued sluggish.

The Dow Jones Industrial average fell 3.34 to 947.21.

Volume was 7.54 million shares compared with 7.28 million Monday.

It was the second day on the American and New York stock exchanges under new rules which restrict credit arrangements for the small-time speculator and the in-and-out trader. Once again, the relatively dull activity and the meandering nature of the price trend were ascribed to the credit restrictions, which, all agreed, have cooled down many a hot stock.

For most of the day, high-quality airline and aerospace issues, which have been very big gainers this year, enjoyed a renewed vigor. Airlines turned mixed toward the close and the aerospace issues, though higher on balance, were below their peak as a group.

The most active stock, American Standard, was off 1% to 20½ on 121,400 shares as investors sold on disappointment that merger talks with U.S. Plywood a 1-point loser had been broken off.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks fell 1.6 to 349.3 with industrials up 1.9 and utilities unchanged.

U.S. Steel sank 14 points Monday, regained all but 1 today as the stock took in the fact that it had an "unprecedented backlog of orders" for the new 360 model computer.

United advanced 3½. Douglas Aircraft 3. Deutsches Aerial 1. Zenith, Admiral 3½. Eastern Air Lines 1¾. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer 2½ and Goodyear 4.

Corporate bonds were mostly unchanged. U.S. Treasury bonds declined.

At a conference of trust officers in New York, there was an exchange of views as to where do we go from here after dramatic increase in corporate profits since 1950.

Paul E. Rukeyser, officer of the First National Bank of Atlanta, Ga., in giving one man's answer, listed both favorable and unfavorable factors in the horizon.

On the side of future opportunities in well selected stocks for long term holding, he stressed the subjunctive:

The population explosion, with the belief that the world's population will expand from 3 billion at present to 6 billion by the year 2,000, with a large growth in the age group 18 to 34. The banker stressed the impact of this factor of population growth on farming and the drug industry.

A growing labor force; Changing technology; Greater governmental activity.

In order to keep the record straight, any fixed dollar security, such as high grade bonds, savings deposits, and annuities, are, as contrasted with stocks, "no growth" issues and constitute no hedge against inflation. But where dollars are needed to meet fixed obligations, such as estate taxes, mortgage maturities and the like, these bonds are selling in the bargain basement.

Negative Factors In the balance sheet of possibilities, Manners listed the subjunctive negative factors:

War;

Shrinkage in buying by business and consumers as war and recession fears operate;

The hazard that existing management may become obsolete, with the revolutionary shift in industry toward a new scientific national economy.

Short term caution after the prolonged rise was counselled, with emphasis on a balanced investment diet, with bonds as well as shares. One West Coast trust officer advised: "a reasonable balance between high grade bonds and good common stocks."

The unwillingness of many to get out of common stocks even after the prolonged post-war advance of prices was analyzed by David L. Benson, Boston analyst. A hundred year economic study indicated that industrial production in the United States on the average has doubled every 16 years, and the buying power of the dollar has fallen on the average of 2% a year. Fixed dollar investments over long periods have shown an average return of 4%, whereas the industrial stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange during 93 years have shown an average annual increment of 8½%, including dividends and capital gains and losses.

Treasury Bonds And, speaking of high grade bonds, the run up in interest rates has resulted in depressing prices of U.S. Treasury bonds to the lowest quotations and the highest yield return since the 1920's. Some return close to 5%.

There are few sure things in Wall Street, but these depressed government bonds have a unique value. In addition to the usual promise to return the face amount in dollars on the distant maturity date, many of such bonds, which have been selling in the low 80's, will be accepted at 100 (par) at the indeterminate date when an individual estate builder dies.

Accordingly, an automatic capital gain is assured when if and as the bonds are turned in a par to meet federal estate taxes. As a result in the Street, these bonds are sometimes referred to as "deathbed" issues.

In order to keep the record straight, any fixed dollar security, such as high grade bonds, savings deposits, and annuities, are, as contrasted with stocks, "no growth" issues and constitute no hedge against inflation. But where dollars are needed to meet fixed obligations, such as estate taxes, mortgage maturities and the like, these bonds are selling in the bargain basement.

Ole Rukeyser will be pleased to receive financial reports with any financial problem. Letters with addressed stamped envelopes should be sent in care of The Lincoln Star. Questions of interest will be answered in the column.
